

SGA Holds Special Election Today

A special election is being held today and tomorrow to fill one vacancy on the SGA Executive Board and four on the Student Judicial Board.

The position for student representative on the Board of Visitors was opened up because of an error made by last year's SGA election committee. Bill Bevan, who was elected to the position last April, was not qualified to run for it. Since he now meets the qualifications, he is running again.

His opponent in this election is Norman Monteau, who also ran last year.

Said Bevan, "I would like to be able to continue helping the students in terms of getting better food in the dining hall, and getting a beer license, so students don't have to pay high cover charges at the local bars in town."

Monteau, who is running against him for the second time, said he feels he lost last year because Bevan was able to get his name before the students better than any of the other candidates.

"Unfortunately, you can't know everyone on campus personally," said Monteau, "and a lot of students just vote for the person whose name they recognize. That's usually the one who spends the most money on his campaign."

Monteau is running again because he feels a lot of people are not satisfied with what Bevan has done in the position.

There are four openings on the Student judicial board, and four people are running for those positions.

One candidate is John Temple, an RA in Wicomico Dorm. Said Temple, "I was on the Residence Hall Judicial Board last year and I felt that it was very important." He said he heard that "they needed people to keep the Judicial system going," and felt he could help out.

Virginia Vlahos is another candidate for a position on the Judicial Board. She said, "I transferred from Radford College and they had a very active judicial system. I'd like to help one get started here at SSC."

Two other candidates, Mike Parks and Dave Bollinger, were unavailable for comment.

Jamie Keenan, SGA vice-president, said he'd like to see more student interest in this election.

Keenan said, "These elections are just for the students' benefit, and I'd like to see more people helping out with the election, and a lot more people voting."

Resident students can vote today at the polling places in their dorms. The polls will be open from 10 a.m. til 6 p.m.

Commuters will be able to vote today or tomorrow in the main lobby of Holloway Hall. Hours for this polling place will be approximately the same as those in the residence halls.

Peg $300,000

For Mall Work

Salisbury State College may look better next fall if plans for a new $300,000 college mall are implemented this spring. According to Gordon H. Howatt, director of business and financial affairs, money from the general state construction fund is being planned for wider sidewalks, "green" or garden areas, and possibly a fountain or statue in the center of campus.

Howatt said wider sidewalks are being planned for high traffic areas. He said a Maryland-based firm charted campus pedestrian flow according to 100, 500 and 1000 flow units to determine how many sidewalks were needed and where.

He added that the campus mall was being planned for the aesthetic value of the view and scenery from the campus mall center.

Howatt said that a plan of the campus' existing vegetation, utilities and proposed facilities will be taken in account in the planning of the campus mall.

The dormitory quadrangle will also be included in the new campus mall plan. Howatt added that part of the parking lot in back of Holloway Hall may be eliminated up to the Health Center.

Coco Bowl:

$4,000 Raised To Send Gulls

By Gains B. Hawkins

Some 50 SSC football players, coaches and related personnel will board a chartered flight on Nov. 24 to Puerto Rico for the second annual Coco Bowl the following Friday.

Privately secured funds totaling $4700 are needed to finance the five day trip. Coach Richard N. Yobst feels will prove a unique opportunity for the players, as well as a glimpse at a different culture.

"Most of the players have never been out of the tri-state area or flown in an airplane", he said.

The Coco Bowl, sponsored by the Puerto Rico Intercollegiate Football Conference (PRIFC), pits the winner of that conference against a U.S. school with a comparably sized athletic program. East Coast schools are preferred, simply to minimize travelling expenses.

The SSC athletic department learned of the game via a PRIFC brochure they received this summer. The athletic department requested that the PRIFC consider SSC as a possible participant and an invitation was, subsequently, extended.

President Norman C. Crawford accepted the invitation based on the recommendation he received from Yobst and professor Nelson Butler, head of the physical education department.

The final list of 50 has not yet been finalized, however, all seniors and starters on the team who will make the trip according to Yobst. The funds collected will also pay the fare for the six members of the coaching staff, the trainer, the equipment manager and the sports information director.

An additional 10 seats have been reserved on the flight for individuals close to the team who will pay their own way.

The PRIFC will be paying half the airfare and will pay for entertainment and all other expenses incurred on the island. The $4700 to be raised by the Sea Gull Booster Club, a 200 member sports oriented organization, and other sources will go towards SSC's share of the airfare.

The majority of that money, $4000, was raised at a bull roast on campus on Oct. 23 following the Salisbury-Kean College football game. No trouble is anticipated raising the remaining $700.

All persons making the trip will stay in barracks at Fort Buchanan, about 10

Plans For RHA College Bowl Under Way

Plans are now well underway for SSC's first "College Bowl", to be sponsored by the RHA, according to Mr. Robert E. Lovely, director of housing. No definite date or location have been scheduled yet.

In an attempt to create competition between campus organizations, the College Bowl will follow the same format as the television quiz show, "It's Academic". All campus organizations, including sororities and fraternities, have been invited to assemble a team for the academic competition.

The teams will consist of six members, four participants and two alternates. Although no specific guidelines have been set, Lovely recommends that the teams should contain one person versed on Social Studies, one individual competent in the sciences and Math, one individual acquainted with English and literature, and one individual versed on the arts and Music.

Members of the team must belong to the organization they are representing, and they may only be a team member for one organization. Presently, no official teams have been submitted, however, Lovely is optimistic. "It's new," he stated.

Questions for the approaching competition are now also under consideration. Requests have been sent to each academic department within the college asking for questions pertinent to that particular curriculum. The response to this request has been favorable.

ADVANCED REGISTRATION

Advanced registration for full and part-time undergraduate students will be the week of Nov. 15 through 19. This does not include special or graduate students.

Dorm residents can pick up their registration packets in their dorms, which were delivered Monday. Commuting students may pick up their packets between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. available now in the main lobby of Holloway Hall, or between 4:30 and 10 p.m. at the switchboard.

Students who do not pre-register must wait until Jan. 16 to register for the Spring semester.

A temporary snack bar opened Monday in the newly renovated portion of the College Dining Hall. The snack bar will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. Staff Photo by Ulrich

Mall Development Called "A Waste"

By Michelle Vermilyea

The proposed mall development plan for Salisbury State College that will involve the spending of $300,000 to landscape a portion of the SSC campus is an outrageous waste of money and shows poor planning on the part of the administration.

Why spend $300,000 to beautify a campus students leave every weekend? Hasn't the administration given any thought as to why the students leave? Couldn't the money be spent for the student activities or facilities that this campus so desperately lacks?

This semester alone there have been no concerns of genuine interest to the majority of the students, there have been only a few dances, and films are shown in Devilbiss Hall 149 where only a limited number of seats are available.

Most of the lectures and concerts have been geared toward faculty and community interest without regard for students. I feel this "beautification" plan is more for the community than the students, if the truth were known.

The money could be used to improve and modernize the existing dorms. The facilities in the older dorms need vital attention.

Many of the existing classrooms have broken desks, no chalk, poor lighting, and faulty heating, not to mention they are overcrowded.

My point being, the $300,000 could be put to a more beneficial and practical use. If the administration really cares about what it can do to improve the campus and the quality of student life, then they should listen and become more aware of student needs and desires.

Why is there no money available to furnish the inside of the new student union but there's plenty to landscape the outside?

If you are a student and would like to see this money spent in a way other than on sprinklers and bushes, let your SGA student representative know or come to The Flyer office in Room 202, Holloway Hall and let us know your opinion. It is time for SSC students to take some action.

Towson Loss Questioned

By Mike Frank

Well football fans here we are 6-2 after last week's 21-3 loss to the Tigers of Towson, a loss that should not have happened. Towson has a good football team but that is as far as it goes. They do not have the running backs Salisbury has, nor do they have the offensive line, but they still beat the Gulls, not because of the players but the coaches.

To be a winner in any sport you have to be an inventor of sorts. By that I mean you must do something out of the ordinary to win. You must have something that will surprise, upset, or disturb the opponent. Mr. Yobst must not believe this theory because he maintains that three rushing plays and a punt will win ball games. Well fans he is wrong and so are you if you think so.

The Gulls had the ball on Towson's two yard line and ran three straight times and came away with only three points. Even at that, it was fourth and inches for a touchdown. Yet they went for three. Down 14-3 with a minute and 38 seconds on the clock in the first half the coach sent in his punting team on fourth down and two at Towson's 38 yard line. This is NCAA football; Chris Schenkil, Bud Wilkinson, ABC, the works. What happened to all the razzle dazzle, the excitement of college football?

Now don't get me wrong, the coach is a winner and his record proves it, but who has he really beaten? He has played some mediocre football teams that should have been exploited and beaten badly. But he is as happy to win by one point as he is by 30 against such teams.

I also thought that a coach played his best players to win, regardless of class sta-

SGA General Board: Keep Dead Week Alive

Dr. Harry Womack
Chairman, Academic Council
Salisbury State College
Salisbury, Maryland 21801

Dear Dr. Womack:

It has come to the attention of the Student Government Association that the Academic Council voted at its October 11, 1976 meeting to delete the following statement on "dead week" from the Faculty Handbook, thus eliminating "dead week": "In the spirit of courtesy to both students and other instructors, no major tests shall be given during the fourteenth (14) week, inasmuch term reports, papers and presentations likely will be scheduled during this week."

Because of the concern regarding this action, a special General Board Meeting was called to review the possible deletion of this statement. We realize, of course, that this action must meet the approval of the Faculty Conference.

The SGA General Board, composed of students elected to represent the student body, deplore this action and feel the policy on "dead week" should stand as stated in the Faculty Handbook. We are deeply supportive of the spirit expressed in the statement, "In the spirit of courtesy to both students and other instructors." It would appear the implementation of a policy thus written would include the principles of courtesy and cooperation that are essential in any academic community.

Our reasons for this posture are:

1. The exam week schedule is such that it would be possible for a student to be given a major test on Friday of the fourteenth (14) week to be followed immediately by a final exam on Saturday; and,
2. Of the 391 courses listed in the "Factual Description of Courses for the Fall 1976 Semester", issued under the direction of the Academic Dean, 124 courses descriptions actually state that a final exam would be given. Weights assigned to these final exam range from 15% to 50% of the total course grade. This information is drawn from only the courses actually stating a final exam would be included. Furthermore, this figure of 124 excludes many classes which have several tests of equal weight, the last of which could fall during the final exam week. Since these final exams do represent a large percentage of the students' final grade, the week prior to final exams is needed for preparation of these exams.

Again, we would like to express our concern for the possible hardships to which students might be subjected should the policy indeed be deleted.

Sincerely,

Timothy D. Ragan
President
Student Government Association

Bd. of Visitors Election Up Again

Editorial note: The following is a list of the duties and responsibilities of a Board of Visitors member according to N. C. Crawford, Jr., college president. Duties and Responsibilities are: 1. Each Board of Visitors member has the following duties and responsibilities: a. Assist the president in the determination of the goals of the college and in the evaluation of progress toward such goals. b. Review budget proposals as developed by the president, make recommendations and advise and assist in the preparation of the annual budget. c. Advise and assist the president in the development of college facilities. d. Assist in the conduct and development of community related programs. e. Assume leadership in the development of community and private support for the college. 2. Each Board of Visitors member shall also carry out such other responsibilities as may be delegated to him by the Board of Trustees or the college president.

Bevan Seeks Old Office

Dear Editor:

Last year I was elected to the Board of Visitors by the student body in the general elections. Because of the mistake by last year's SGA administration I had to resign. The error was that, "Any member of the SGA could run for the position of student representative to the Board of Visitors", where in the constitution it states that the candidate must be "a sophomore or junior at time of election". I am now qualified to serve on the Board of Visitors. After my resignation on October 7, I was appointed as a temporary student member of the Board of Visitors for 30 days until a special election is held.

Today I would like to announce my candidacy to be the student member to the Board of Visitors for the rest of this academic year because I would like to continue serving the students of SSC as their strong voice for student rights.

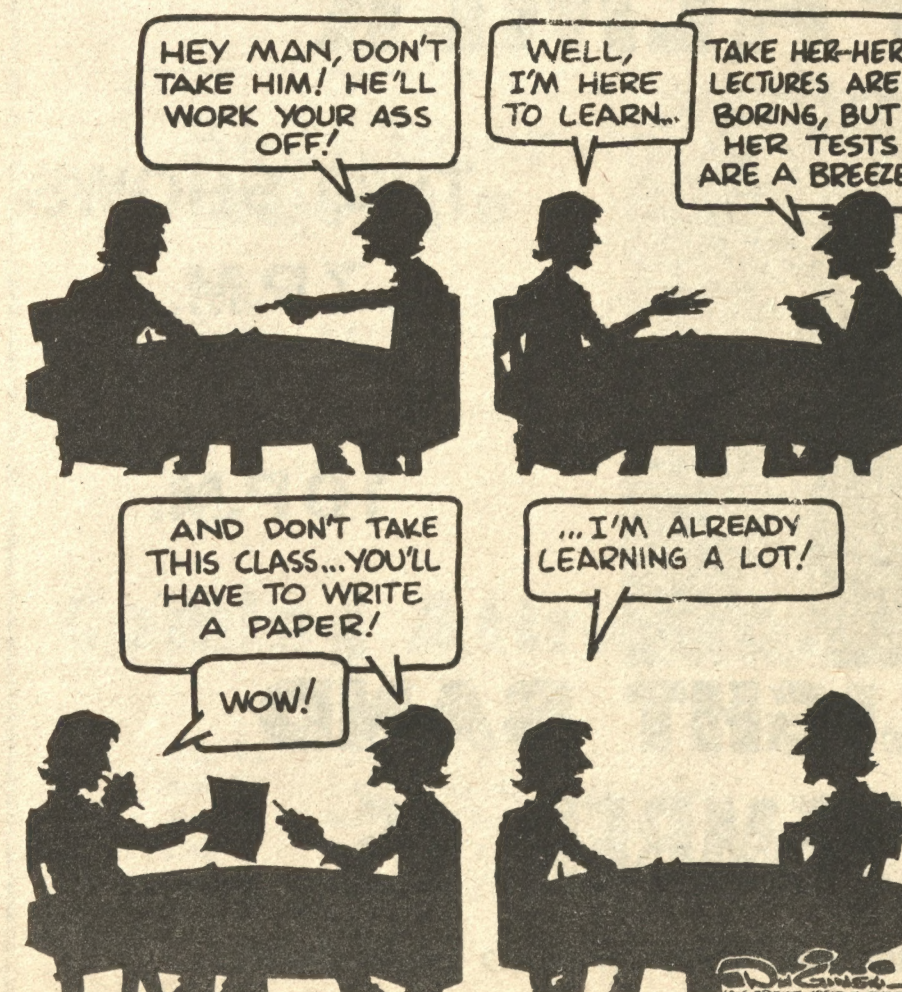

The special student government election for this position is being held of one day during the second week of November.

The Board of Visitors is composed of seven members that are appointed by the governor of Maryland. The board's task is to advise President Crawford and the college Board of Trustees, who make all policy decisions at SSC. The job of a Board of Visitors member is very important because he is in the position to influence both school officials and politicians in the state capitol to cut a lot of red tape involved in getting plans for various projects approved for the college. For example, the Board of Visitors was able to contact the governor and able to eliminate all the red tape involved in purchasing of 28 acres of land for the relocation of SSC's athletic facilities. I believe that students should have a stronger voice in matters on campus which will directly affect them. After talking with many students I have found three main issues of concern.

These involve the granting of a beer license on campus to sell beer, the improvement of the quality of food in the dining hall, and keeping the small college atmosphere here at Salisbury State.

I believe a beer license should be granted to sell beer on the SSC campus. Secondly, I believe the quality of food and service in the dining hall needs to be improved. In the short two months of my working as the student member of the Board of Visitors, I have set up a student food committee to start improving the service and selecting next semester's meals that would be served in the dining hall. Because of the work in this committee we now have a hair net policy for all persons cooking and serving our meals. This will help eliminate the problem of finding hair in food. Thirdly, I think students should have a voice in determining the future growth of Salisbury State College. If elected, I will continue working toward these goals.

Bill Bevan

Monteau Attacks Bevan

Dear Editor:

I'm sure you've all seen the posters plastered around campus advertising "a strong voice for student rights." And by now you've probably gotten at least one of Bill Bevan's handbills, telling you why you should vote for him to be the student representative on the Board of Visitors.

All that advertising costs a lot of money, money that Bevan's opponents didn't have last year when we ran against him. That's why we lost. I know the students at SSC won't allow the position of student rep on the Board of Visitors to be "bought" again.

I am running for this position because I think the students have the right to a choice in this election. Bill Bevan has not fulfilled his responsibilities as Board of Visitors member. He has spent his two months in the position running around looking for an issue to make himself a name—and in the process he has alienated many students and faculty members and made the SGA look like a bunch of sixth graders.

I am also running because there are many issues the Student Board member can get involved with that directly relate to his position.

He is the student voice on the Board of Visitors, which is a group of community members who advise the president of the college, and because of that he can bring the students' ideas and problems directly to the president, if he stays in touch with the students. And since he is in contact with community members, he can positively influence the community's opinion of the students, and the college, if he is competent. I intend to be this kind of representative to the Board of Visitors.

I am already working with the SGA on several committees, and I am the editor of the SGA's first annual report, a booklet which will acquaint all the students with the workings of their student government. I intend to work for the students on whatever they think is important, not what I think will make me a name. I believe the students want a concerned and competent representative on the Board of Visitors, not a student Crusader.

Norman K. Monteau

Life Insurance: Do You Really Need It?

Dear Editor,

This fall, as in the past, there will be life insurance salespersons actively seeking sales on the Salisbury State College campus. Although life insurance has an important place in financial planning, I believe that every student should ask himself several questions before buying any life insurance.

1. What economic or financial damage will result from my death? If the answer is "little or none" - you do not need insurance. Most students do not need to buy life insurance while in school.

2. If I do need life insurance, what price should I pay for it? Prices for insurance vary by type and company, but you should be able to buy $22,000 face value term insurance at age 20 for $100 or less per year.

3. If I do need life insurance, what type should I buy? For maximum protection per dollar for premium, buy term insurance. If you wish to buy whole or ordinary life, you are, in effect, asking the insurance company to "save" money for you. Find out what rate of interest they will pay you less than you would earn in an ordinary savings account.

Keep in mind that insurance salespersons usually earn larger commissions (50 percent of first year premium or more) on policies with savings features than they earn on term insurance.

Be informed - don't sign anything you don't read and understand. Get help from a qualified advisor. Be a smart consumer.

tus, or years on the team. Here again everyone on the team knows who is the best yet the coach refuses to play them.

For heavens sake Coach when are you going to wake up and realize that the passing game helps and complements the running game? You have the receivers, if not on the varsity, on the JV. You are no longer coaching at Boy's Club or Prince George's County status. This is it, big time. You have the material here, use it, don't let it go to waste like so many other good players have here at Salisbury.

And while we are on the subject let's talk about the play calling. Again you must do something to break the opponent's game plan. You have to make your own breaks. You can't wait for the other team to hand them to you. The faculty and the students who go here would like the college recognized not only academically but sport wise also. I hope that it can come true some day, but it won't happen until you open up your offense not only to running but to passing, and start the best players on the team. Remember Coach this is NCAA.

The Raving(?) Record Reviewer?

By Kris Messick

Most fortunately (for myself!), while this edition of The Flyer is rolling on the press, Florida's torrid tradewinds will be blowing that warm sunshine, Disney World and my head away. But I shan't leave you, my faithful audience, without a shot of music to wash down Old Man Winter and Daylight Savings Time, just when you need it most! So here's a list of selected new albums that are really worth listening for:

"Jessie Come Home"	James Gang	ATCO
*"Ringo's Rotogravure"	Ringo Starr	Atlantic
*"Live On Tour"	Billy Cobham/George Duke Band	Atlantic
*"Chicken Skin Music"	Ry Cooder	Warner Bros.
"Troubadour"	J.J. Cale	Shelter

Be sure not to miss those (*) so designated. You'll be tickled, I'm sure. All of these better quality recordings are now available in our own WSSC's extended record collection. If you don't hear them on 73 AM on campus or 107.5 FM, then give 'em a ring at 546-1373 and a suggestion if you please. They'll love it! A toasty later!

Evergreen Gives Last Call

Photographers for senior portraits will return to campus on December 6, 7, and 8. An opportunity will be provided to graduating seniors who did not have their portraits taken in October to do so during the first full week of December.

People who did have their portraits taken but who are not satisfied with their proofs may bring the unsatisfactory proofs and their receipt and try for another sitting at no additional sitting fee.

Critic Runs Off: WSSC Starts New Promos Leaves Star List For Her Fans

By Joe Norton

WSSC's listeners will soon have an opportunity to request music without the hassles of phone calls or trips across campus. Starting Sunday, November 14, a new written request service will be available throughout the campus. The brand new "You-Wanted-To-Hear-It" boxes will have branch locations at the dormitory mailboxes and in lobbies of other buildings on campus. The request coupons may be filled out and deposited so that the station can have a written record of the music the students would like to hear on WSSC.

A list will be compiled of these requests so that all staff DJ's and the record companies across the nation will know which songs and artists are getting airplay. Any record company with any sense should then send WSSC the material that gets the heavy request rates to promote their own label. DJ's can refer to the list for possible airplay as well as honoring re-

"Three Cuckolds" Called Success:

By Timothy Morgan

The Three Cuckolds as presented by the Salisbury State Theatre is a marvelous display of theatricality, uniting both the imagination of the old improvisational commedia dell'arte troupes of the late 16th and 17th centuries with the vaudeville, slapstick and melodramatic forms and techniques of contemporary comedy. The storyline, or plot, if there is any at all, lends itself to modern adaptation, because the hilarious bed-hopping of the cuckolds of four centuries ago will continue as long as the institution of marriage exists and the mystery and appeal of a woman still intrigues a man.

The commedia dell'arte, as it was acted in its purest form in the late 16th and early 17th centuries, was largely improvisational and typically coarse and obscene. In the usual performance a rough scenario of events to be enacted was tacked up backstage by the company manager, and the actors conferred amongst themselves to decide just which ribald lazzi, or sequences of comic actions and dialogue, they would employ for the execution of this particular plot on this particular day. Predictably, after a period of some time, certain of the favorite routines of the various troupes began to solidify into patterns and stories favored by their audiences, and forms roughly like plays were born. Several hundred of the scenarios of these "plays" have come down to us from the old commedia troupes. The Three Cuckolds is an excellent (if somewhat conjectural) reconstruction of one such scenario.

The character of Arlecchino, the impish young rogue who has remained a favorite with audiences through centuries of theatrical history, provides the unity to the play. Inventively played by David Dickson in the Salisbury State Theatre Production, this comical con-man arrives in a little town in northern Italy and immediately becomes amorously involved with three beautiful young women, played by Judy Groton, Kathy Pfeiffer, and Cathe Adkins.

Upon Arlecchino's discovery that all three of his loves have wealthy and very jealous husbands—Robert Getz, Robert J. Wesley, and Joe Mancuso—all of these zany characters become involved in merry chases, mistaken identities, hilarious frauds, and ultimately a romantically happy ending. Arlecchino's magical conspiracies bring to light the clandestine meetings of the three husbands and wives. And while his efforts are successful for everyone else, poor bumbling Arlecchino's devilish antics inevitably wind themselves into a web so entangled that only Lucifer himself can undo it.

Highlighted by song and dance, the production features lavish settings by Robert K. Cloyd, resident designer for the Theatre, and authentic costumes of the period by Carl O'Shea, a professional costumer whose designs were most recently seen on the Salisbury State stage in last year's popular production of Godspell. The Three Cuckolds is directed by Leland Starnes, and Thomas Clemens is designing lighting. Choreography for the production has been created by Cathe Adkins, Artistic Director of the Eastern Shore Ballet, and songs are under the direction of Dr. Ray Zeigler of the Department of Music.

Homecoming Weekend 1976 Called A Rousing Success

By Joan Stack

Homecoming weekend at Salish State College has in the past been something less than memorable. (Does anyone remember if there even was one last year?) This year, though, thanks to the many students who gave their time and effort to the SGA's Homecoming Planning committee, SSC's Homecoming Weekend was the happy exception, highlighted by well-planned activities and enthusiastic student participation.

The weekend got off to a rousing start on Friday night with a Pep Rally and Bonfire on the soccer field. A large crowd of students turned out in the cold for beer and a cheering session led by the SSC Cheerleaders and the Pep Band.

A prize was awarded to the person, or group of people, who brought the most wood for the bonfire. No final determination has been made on who won that prize, but from the looks of the blaze Friday night, they had plenty of contestants. (It was rumored that one group tore down a chicken coop and what looked like a picket fence was spotted burning in the center.)

The SGA donated two and a half kegs of beer, which probably had as warming an influence as the bonfire.

The Homecoming parade got started at 10:35 a.m. on Saturday, just five minutes later than scheduled. (That's got to be a record for any kind of parade.)

Among those participating were seven members of the SSC Class of 1926, Salisbury Mayor Elmer Ruark and his wife, and the Delmar Fire Department. The SSC Marching Band and the Delmar High School Marching Band also participated.

Prizes were awarded by the SGA to the three best floats in the parade. The Music Department's entry took the first prize, with Sigma Nu fraternity taking second place and $75. Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity's float was the third place winner, picking up the $50 prize. A trophy was given to the SAE fraternity for the group with the best costumes.

The judges were C. Audrey Stewart, Associate Dean of Student Affairs; Nancy Lytwyn, Art instructor; Frederick R. Durr, Chairman of the Business and Economics Department; Patricia M. Armstrong, Professor of Psychology; and Kent N. Kimmel, Chairman of the Art Department.

The football game between SSC and the Madison College Ducks took place Saturday afternoon. The pre-game show began with 500 helium-filled balloons being let off from the field, which brought a big hand from the audience. Prizes for floats and costumes were awarded during the pre-game show.

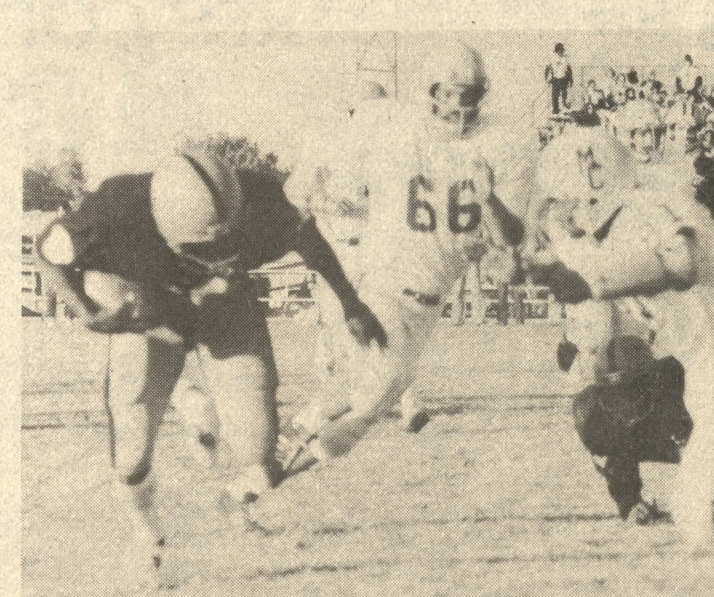

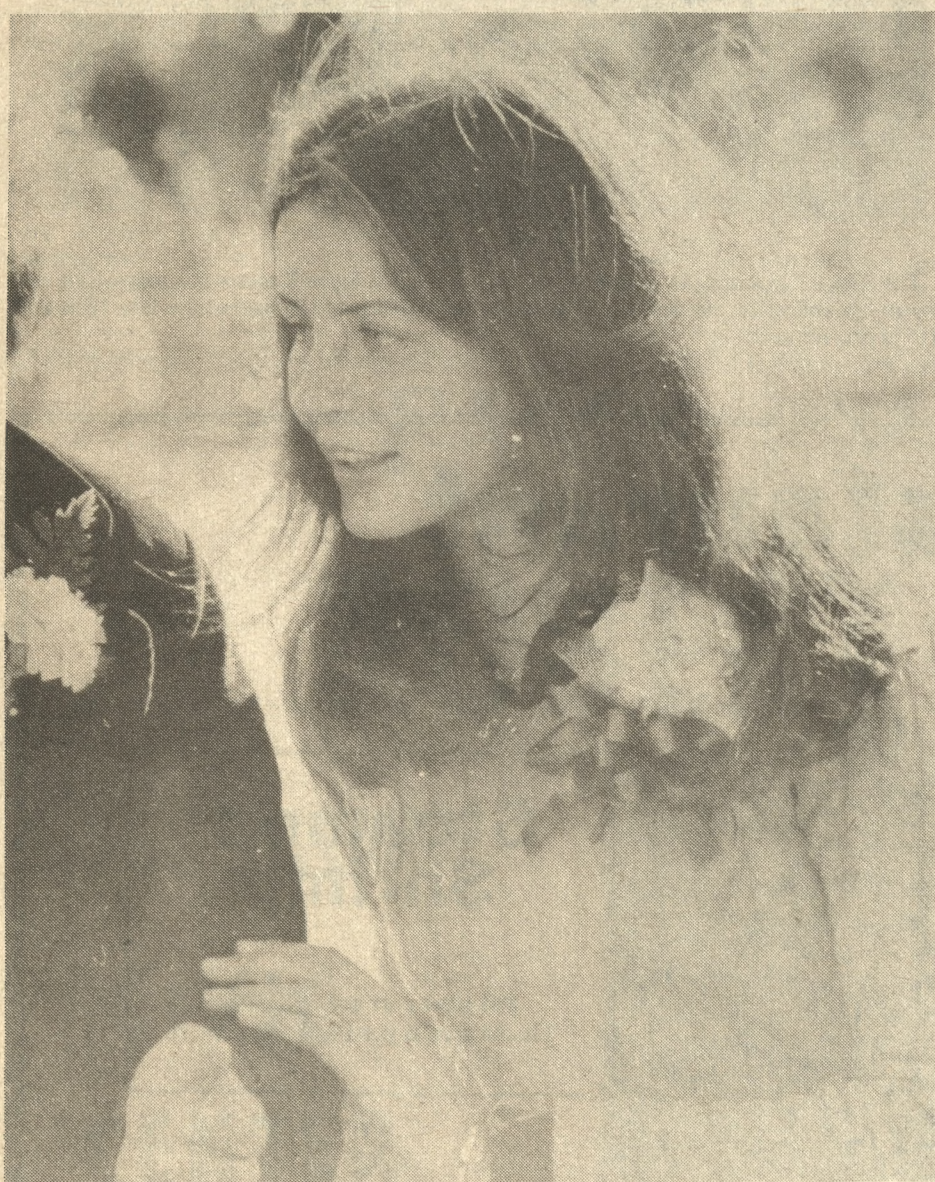

The half-time show was highlighted by the crowning of the 1976 Homecoming queen, Mindy Wilson, who was elected through a student vote last week. Elected to her court were Nancy Spence, Kathy Edwards, Barb Scott, and Bonnie Downes.

The Sea Gulls suffered their second defeat of the season, losing to Madison 38 - 36, in a well-played and very close game.

Some 900 students attended the Homecoming Dance on Saturday night, and though it was crowded, "It seemed like everyone was having a good time," according to SGA President Tim Ragan. The group "The Beginnings" performed at the dance.

A disco-music Coffee House in the dining hall on Sunday night topped the weekend off.

Chairman of the SGA Homecoming Committee, Nancy Spence said, "Because of the enthusiastic participation of the student body, we finally had a big homecoming here. I hope it's continued next year."

Attention Vets

Veteran students are requested to take the following information under careful consideration in planning their college programs:

1. Credit for VA benefits for television courses will be given only if 50 percent or more of the student's courses require conventional classroom attendance.

2. Currently, independent study courses at SSC are not approved for VA purposes. No payment will be given for these courses.

3. Veteran students classified as "Special" may encounter difficulties and delays in receiving benefits. These students are advised to become enrolled in a regular degree program.

Bob Connelly, veteran representative, is available Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday at the Veterans Affairs Office in Caruthers Hall to provide assistance.

Hotline

Genesis Hotline is looking for interested individuals to volunteer their services. Applications will be available in Holloway Hall, Rm. 151. Training will be November 13.

Senior Pictures

If you have not had your senior portrait taken for the yearbook, and you are still interested in having it taken, please drop a note to the Yearbook office through the campus mail to Campus Box 708. Responses will determine whether it will be worthwhile to bring the studio photographers back for another session. Probable scheduling will be the first week in December. Responses should be received by the staff by Friday, November 19 at either Box 708 or in Room 201, Holloway Hall. No phone calls, please.

Yearbook Photographers

There will be a yearbook photographer's meeting on Thursday, Nov. 11 at 5 p.m. in the yearbook office, Room 213 Holloway Hall. All staff photographers should plan to attend.

Turkey Shoot

Entry blanks are now available for the I.M. Turkey Shoot. This shoot is open to all male and female staff, faculty and students here at the college. Winners will receive a 26 lb. turkey. All interested persons should contact Bruce Townsend in Rm. 12 Pocomo Hall or stop by the Intramural office located in Tawes Gym.

SNEA Bakesale

The Student National Educational Association (SNEA) will sponsor a bake-goods sale, Thursday, Nov. 11, 1976, beginning at 11:30 a.m., on the steps of the Student Union. Baked goods such as cupcakes, brownies, cookies, and cake slices will be sold. In case of rain, the sale will be held in the front lobby of Devilbiss Science Hall. SUPPORT THE SNEA!

Hotline In Action At SSC

The saying goes something like this: "If a hotline lasts a year, it's successful." SSC's hotline, Genesis, was one year old this fall.

Genesis' phones are manned every night from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. by a staff of about 10 fully trained volunteers. Student coordinators, June Hillock and Jerry Tickel are responsible for making sure the shifts are filled and generally keeping the hotline running.

Said Tickel, "Genesis is an all-around student service. We're equipped to handle all kinds of student problems, we're a referral service, and we're good listeners for people who just want someone to talk to."

All calls to the hotline are kept completely confidential. "We don't ask for any names," said Tickel. In keeping with this policy of confidentiality, only Genesis staff members even know the location of the hotline headquarters.

Bernard E. Murphy of the Counseling Center is the faculty advisor for Genesis and he says he is pleased with the response it has had on campus this semester. "Based on the population we are serving, it's been fairly well received."

Genesis receives about two or three calls a week, according to Tickel, and they are hoping to increase this number with their new publicity campaign. Tickel said, "A lot of students think the hotline service is only for life-or-death problems. We're equipped to help with school pressures, job problems, medical problems, and we can refer people to help in the community if they feel that's what they want."

As a part of their publicity campaign,

Genesis' volunteers have put stickers with the hotline phone number on all the pay phones on campus. "Doing this," said Tickel, "we found out that there are only 37 phones for student use on campus, and most of them are in kitchens or hallways."

The hotline staff sees the location and scarcity of phones on campus as one problem facing them, but they are philosophical. Said Tickel, "If someone really has a problem, I hope they'll walk down to the phone booth at Safeway to call us if they have to."

Contrary to the popular belief that hotlines only deal with suicide problems, Genesis' calls are mostly for information or referrals. The volunteers have researched all the community services they use as referrals, to make sure they're the kind of places students can get the help they need.

Genesis is looking for new volunteers and will hold a special training session this weekend, Nov. 13 and 14. Applications may be picked up in the Counseling Center, Room 151, Holloway Hall.

If anyone doesn't want to work the phones, Tickel said, "we'll put them to work on publicity, or gathering information from the community."

If anyone, on campus or off, wants to call the hotline, volunteers are waiting to talk to you. Their number is 546-1525 off-campus and Ext. 238 on campus.

"We don't claim to know everything," Tickel said, "but what we don't know we'll find out for you."

"We have information on pregnancy and abortion, alcoholism, smoking, VD, and just about everything else a student might need help with," Tickel said. He is quick to mention that the people manning the phones are only there to listen and give information, not advice. "We don't force our values or ideas on anyone. That's not part of the training."

Genesis volunteers go through an intensive two-day training session before they start working, and they continue to have in-service workshops as long as they continue with the hotline. "We just had a special training session on dealing with alcohol related problems last week," Tickel said.

The Academic Dean's Office encourages all students to seek academic advisement from department chairman and the Academic Counselor during program planning week, November 15 through 19. The faculty and members of the Academic Dean's Office are available to assist students with scheduling classes and understanding major and general education requirements.

SES Gets Jobs—For You

By David Downing

Is money tight right now? Are you wondering about Christmas? Does that IRS refund check look a long way off?

Well maybe the Salisbury State College Student Employment Service can keep you from robbing your local bank. Right now 19 jobs are waiting to be filled and more are coming in all the time.

The SES is an SGA sponsored employment referral service free to any SSC student. SES helps students find out what jobs are available in the Salisbury and Ocean City areas.

"We serve as a coordinator between employers and interested college students," Jerry Fields, director of SES, explained.

Student reaction to the service seems to be favorable. Cindy Crow, of 2B3 Choptank, said the staff is "efficient, helpful, and well organized. They did everything they could do to help me get a job."

Fred Hughes, of 6A1 Choptank, said he has just gotten a permanent part-time position at the Royal Exchange Pub by using SES. He will be working 20 hours a week as a short-order cook.

SES handles all types of jobs. The jobs they have right now can be found on their job board in the SGA office, Room 201, Holloway Hall. Categories on the board include: Waitresses—Busboy—Cook; Sales; Fast Food; Manual Labor; Babysitting; Ocean City; and Miscellaneous.

The service is also making up a babysitting list. According to Bob Hayes, an SES staff member, when a parent calls in asking for a babysitter for a certain night, the service can then call students on the list.

Almost all the jobs handled by the service, he said, are part-time jobs including one-time jobs and permanent positions. Students with free time in the evenings, as well as during the day, could find something to fit their schedule, Fields said.

To register with the service, a student must fill out a registration card in the SGA office, Room 201 Holloway Hall. Office hours are Monday through Thursday 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. and Friday the hours are 9 a.m. to 10 a.m.

If there is no prospect for you up on the job board, they will keep a contact

In addition, equipment such as buzzers and bells are now being prepared and should be ready for use in the near future. No moderator has been appointed yet but Lovely said the RHA will probably invite a faculty member to serve in this capacity.

"All we are waiting for now are the teams," he said. Once an adequate number of teams have been submitted, a round robin lasting 30 minutes will be scheduled. If a sufficient amount of interest is stimulated, the Bowl could continue into the spring semester, Lovely said.

will deal with the Temptations and Earth, Wind, and Fire as well as the Magical McCartney Mystery Tour on December 3.

WSSC will alter its broadcast hours during the Thanksgiving break. The last regularly scheduled show will be Tuesday's Breakfast Show. Normal broadcasting will resume on Sunday, November 28 at 3 p.m.

Arrangements are still being made and hassles are still being incurred in the effort to connect Chesapeake Hall to the 730 AM signal. No definite date has been announced at this time but efforts are being stepped up to complete the broadcasting system to the college's residence halls.

Nov. 12, 1976

Magnum Force, starring Clint Eastwood, is a fast moving picture where rookies on the police force take the law in their own hands by killing criminals.

Clint Eastwood sets out in search for the policemen responsible for killing the mobsters. Eastwood, along with his ability to use a gun, makes the plot twist and turn with its exciting action.

Also starring in the picture are Hal Holbrook, Felton Perry, and the three ex-servicemen who have set out to rid the world of crime and criminals.

MURDER ON THE ORIENT EXPRESS

Nov. 19, 1976

Murder on the Orient Express is adapted from Agatha Christie's highly popular book MURDER IN THE CALAIS COACH. The movie's talented cast consist of: Lauren Bacall, Martin Balsam, Ingrid Bergman, Jacqueline Bisset, Sean Connery, Albery Finney, John Gielgud, Anthony Perkins, Vanessa Redgrave, Richard Widmark and Michael York.

The movie takes place on a train heading toward the Yugoslav countryside. A murder is committed on the Orient Express. The victim is a mysterious American businessman. In the remainder of the story the detective Hercule Poirot (Albert Finney) seeks to find the killer. The outcome is being a highly entertaining movie.

Cross Country Finishes Season, 5-9

The SSC cross country team ended its season Saturday with a mildly disappointing sixth place finish in the 35th Mason-Dixon Conference Championships on the five-mile Salisbury City Park Course.

George Mason University won the team championship reinforcing their apparent superiority after finishing undefeated (14-0) in dual meet competition during the regular season.

Will Albers of George Mason won the individual title with a course record 25:16 performance. In fact, the first seven finishers broke the old course record of 26:30.

Vernon Johnson was the top finisher for the Gulls with a 27:27 clocking, good for 13th place and All-Conference honors.

Coach Lloyd F. Sigler said that Miles Craven, one of the team's top performers, was forced to miss the meet due to a death in his family.

"Miles absence probably cost the team a shot at fourth place," said Sigler.

The Gulls finished the regular season with a 5-9 record (2-4 in the conference) which included three forfeit wins. However, Coach Sigler considered the season a success.

Sigler, comparing last year's 9-3 record with this season's 5-9 log, cited the other schools' improvement as the basis for the turnabout, not any drop in talent at SSC.

Sigler did indicate, however, that two of the top four finishers at a recent invitational high school meet have applied for admission to SSC.

In a separate competition, Debbie Zerphey of Loyola won an unofficial women's meet run over a three-mile course in the Park. Anne Schweitzer, Cheryl Wright, and Beth Trainer competed for SSC.

Sea Gulls Lose To Towson, 21 - 3

Towson State's Tigers ended the Sea Gulls' five game winning streak with a 21-3 victory over the Gulls under the lights Saturday in Towson. Salisbury was stifled by 107 yards in penalties and nasty weather conditions. Towson's win made it the fourth year in a row in which the home team has won in the heated rivalry.

The Gulls took an early lead in the first quarter on a 21 yard field goal by Mark Evans. Salisbury's score was set up by defensive end Chuck Markiewicz's interception of a Dan Dullea pass on the Tiger 25 yard line. Quarterback Bob Moyle promptly threw a 16 yard pass to Jimmy Watson at the Towson 9 yard line. The Gulls, however, were unable to move the ball past the Tiger 4 yard line and had to settle for a field goal. Towson, with the aid of a penalty for roughing the kicker and a controversial pass interference call moved the ball to the Gulls' 16 yard line where Dullea connected with wide receiver Mike Bennett for a touchdown and all the points the Tigers would need. The extra point attempt was unsuccessful and the Towson lead stood at 6-3.

The Tigers came right back on their next possession as Mike Maloney scored on a three yard run. Towson made up for their missed extra point as Dullea threw to Skip Chase for a two-point conversion.

The Gulls saw their last sustained drive of the evening come to an end with 1:38 left in the half at the Tiger 38 yard line when on fourth and two Salisbury decided to punt. The half ended with Towson on top 14-3. Tailback Mike Maloney scored his second touchdown of the game early in the third quarter to pad Towson's lead.

Neither team could get anything going for the remainder of the game due to the condition of the field. Most players were ankle deep in mud as the downpour re-

Tennis Team Excels

By Cindy Craig and Pat Bailey

This year's Women's Tennis team had a successful season with a 9-1 record in dual match play. One of the major highlights of the season was the team's upset over the University of Delaware. In past years against UD, the She Gulls had never taken a single match.

"I feel that our girls worked very hard from the first week. We started off with better material than ever before," commented Dean Burroughs, coach of the Salisbury State Women's Tennis team.

Another highlight was SSC's victory in the Maryland Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (MAIAW) held at UMBC. Expecting to finish third in the tournament, the She Gulls were leading after the first three rounds. They then went on to win the entire tournament.

"I felt the girls improved individually. This team improvement was more noticeable than ever before," commented Burroughs.

Sue Foelber, freshman, was the number one player from the beginning. She is ranked number two in Maryland in the 18 years and under division. Foelber placed first in the MAIAW tournament. She went undefeated in dual-match play, finishing with a 9-0 season.

Number two player Grace Byron, a freshman from New Jersey, went undefeated this season. Her main asset was her mental toughness on the court. Byron won the key match in the victory over the University of Delaware.

Teresa Landon, freshman, held the number three position. Her record was 8-1. "Landon doesn't hold back when going to the net. She displays more offense on the court than any other player," said Burroughs. In doubles play Landon and Foelber went undefeated.

Sophomore Karen Shave had a hard luck year finishing with a 5-4 record. Two out of four of her losses came in tough three set matches. Her asset is her steadiness and passing shots.

Number five player Susan Wheeler, a transfer from Catonsville, went 7-1 for the season. "She has a good backhand and serve and is a good net player," Burroughs commented.

Janet Dumay, Sara Beach, Liz Thomas, Sherry Windsor, and Susan Fletcher all did well when called upon to play in doubles competition. Dumay, having a good year, will be the only member of the team to graduate.

The second annual Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament was held Oct. 29-31 with 12 teams entering the competition. Salisbury played well in this last game of the season, tying for sixth place with Catholic University.

"I feel we have established ourselves in women's tennis. We came from a record of 0-5 last year to a record of 9-1 this year. Our schedule for next year will give us a good level of competition. Teams will play us now which wouldn't play us before because we are stronger," Dean Burroughs said.

Football

fused to slacken.

Both teams gained 222 yards offensively with the referees' yellow flags making the difference. Halfback Jim Watson had another good night with 76 yards on 12 carries as did tight end Tom Monthley who caught three passes for 25 yards. The loss dropped the Gulls' record to 6-2.

Intramurals Offer Variety

By Rick Tucker

Once again, the Intramural Sports Office has put together an outstanding program of activities for the spring semester. Some of the more innovative programs to watch out for are: indoor lacrosse, indoor soccer, and indoor tennis.

Among the other events scheduled are a co-ed bowling league, a doubles tennis and table tennis tournament, along with a badminton league. With the cooperation of Skateland, the Salisbury roller-skating rink, the Intramural Office was able to obtain a free skate night for SSC students on several nights throughout the spring semester.

Yet to come this semester is the annual "Turkey Shoot" sponsored by the Intramural Office. This will be held Nov. 17 and 18 with the prize being a 26 lb. turkey going to the male and female winners. There won't be any entry fee, so everyone is urged to come out and try his skills.

Anyone interested in participating or finding out more details about any of the events is encouraged to stop by Tawes Gymnasium and talk with Grady Armstrong.

A Final Note!

Watch for the results of the Intramural football, tennis, and table tennis championships being held. Some surprises are ahead!

Hockey Ends Season, 7 - 3

The SSC women's hockey team finished its season last week with a 7 - 3 record, beating Essex Community College 3 - 0. First year coach, Sharon Tawes, led the She Gulls to their most successful season in recent years.

The team racked up victories against Frostburg State, 3 - 0; Mason-Dixon, 1 - 0; American University, 1 - 0; Georgetown University, 3 - 0; Galludet, 2 - 0; and Towson State, 4 - 0.

They lost to the University of Delaware, 5 - 1, Goucher, 1 - 0, and the University of Maryland, 3 - 0. Commenting on those games, Tawes cited the University of Delaware and the University of Maryland as being among the best competitors faced by the Gulls. "The University of Maryland, in particular, had excellent stick work," she explained.

She said that Nancy McKittrick, right thrust, and Patty Leap and Anita Gruss, forward line, have played exceptionally well this season. Goalie Jackie Sandlof, she continued, had "a remarkable record" of 49 saves against the University of Maryland. "The links and thrusters have made, on the average, 60 interceptions a game," Tawes said.

Although the team will be losing Patty Leap, Rocky Struble, and Terri Flott, Tawes is looking forward to a good season next year, also. She explained that the J.V. hockey team, who have compiled a 3-2-1 record to date, have also improved greatly during the 1976-77 season. "There are eight freshman on the team with enormous potential," she said.
